

SECOND REPORT OF THE TECHNICAL COMMITTEE ON INDEPENDENT MEDIA COMMISSION AND THE INDEPENDENT TELECOMMUNICATIONS AUTHORITY/21 MAY 1993.

1. The Committee has met on a number of occasions since the submission of the last report.

2. The Committee has received submissions from the following parties:

ANC
Bophuthatswana Government
Ciskei Government
Conservative Party
Democratic Party
IFP and Kwazulu Government
PAC
South African Government
Venda Government

3. The Committee has prepared a draft IMC Bill, which is attached. This Bill is based on the terms of reference of the Committee, the submissions received from political parties, assistance received from a number of experts and discussions of the Committee itself.

4. Most of the submissions received by the Committee dealt with the ITA/IBA. In so far as there were submissions which dealt with the IMC, the Committee has tried to incorporate in its recommendations as many of these submission as possible. However, the following submissions are not reflected at present in the recommendations of the Committee:

4.1 The submission received from the Ciskei Government to the effect that the IMC should have no jurisdiction in relation to the TBVC states. Ciskei submits that the TBVC states should enjoy regional autonomy and the IMC and ITA should be regionally based. The Committee feels that this is an issue ought to be dealt with by the Technical Committees dealing with constitutional matters and the Transitional Executive Council.

4.2 The submission received from the Democratic Party to the effect that IMC members should be appointed following a process of open hearings. The Committee did not feel that this was appropriate, bearing in mind that the IMC has a transitional function. It should be established by the TEC /MPF immediately upon the commencement of the IMC Act.

4.3 The submissions received from the PAC to the effect that the Committee ought to address the question of the print media in terms of the levelling of the playing fields in the period leading up to the elections. The Committee is of the view that it would be inappropriate to try and regulate the print media in the transitional period, since this would constitute an unwarranted infringement of freedom of expression. The reason why broadcast is treated differently is that the frequency spectrum is public property and ought therefore to be regulated in the public interest. Similarly, state-financed publications, which are financed by revenue received from tax payers, should not be involved in the realm of party politics.

5. The Committee felt that state information services ought to be treated differently from state-financed publications. In the IMC Bill, we have dealt only with state-financed publications. The Committee understands that state information services would deal, inter alia, with statements made and press releases issued by the State President, the central government, Ministers and their ministries, state departments, and the South African Communication Service, as well as the equivalent bodies in the self-governing territories and the TBVC states. The Committee is of the view that the state information services ought to be dealt with as follows:

- 5.1 All such statements and press releases ought to be issued via a central point, namely the South African Communication Service;
- 5.2 Insofar as a political party is of the view that such a statement or press release runs counter to the promotion and creation of a climate favourable to free political parties participation and the holding free and fair elections, this political party may refer a complaint to the IEC or the TEC to deal with.

The Committee is of the view that it is appropriate that the political parties should resolve such issues. It is not felt appropriate to have these issues adjudicated by a body such as the IMC. It may well be that the political parties will decide to introduce additional measures to address statements and press releases emanating from certain state information services.

6. The Committee has a similar view with regards to any written material published, any statement made or press release issued by any political party, party representative or candidate during the transition period. In other words, insofar as a political party of the view that such material, statement or press release runs counter to the promotion and creation of a climate favourable to free political participation and the holding of free and fair elections, this political party may refer a complaint to the IEC or TEC.
7. The Committee hopes to have completed an Independent Broadcasting Authority Bill (the name of this Bill is still the subject of discussion) by the end of next week i.e. Friday 28 May 1993.
