AGENDA FOR THE DISCUSSION OF THE 12TH DRAFT OF THE INDEPENDENT MEDIA COMMISSION BILL

The following issues have been referred to the Technical Committee. The following is recommended:

1. Definitions

"broadcasting" - a technical change has been made following recommendations from the Postmaster General by inserting a reference to telecommunications.

"community" - this new definition refers to geographic communities and communities of interest.

"community broadcasting services" - subsection (c) of the definition has been changed to accommodate the new definition of community.

"election" - the definition has been amended to include reference to referendum.

"election period" - we have determined the commencement of the election period as the day after the submission of lists.

"political party" - we have based this definition on parties or alliances which have submitted lists but excluded section 2(2) and 6(1)(d) from the application of this definition.

"telecommunication" - this new definition has been introduced after discussions with the Postmaster General.

2. Sections

6(1)(d) - the words "movement, organisation or body" have been introduced.

19(8) - a community broadcasting licensee is now referred to.

24(1)(c) - we have removed the word "successively" which were objected to by the Negotiating Council. With this new formulation suspension of the broadcasting services by the Independent Media Commission will be competent in respect of a serious first-time offence, but such suspension shall only be competent up to a maximum of the life span of the Independent Media Commission.

31 - we have appended to the 12th Draft a clause which, for convenience sake, is numbered 31.A, which is the clause deeming 702, Capital and Trinity to be broadcasting licensees for the application of clauses 18, 19, 20 and 21.

33 - the dissolution clause has been more clearly specified for technical reasons.

Once these amendments have been settled, we have a final Bill for tabling in Parliament.
