PART II

1. NATURE OF THE RIGHT (Application of Constitutional Principle II)

1.1 Non-contentious Issues

1.1.1 The right to use the language and participate in the cultural life of one's choice is a universally accepted fundamental right.

2. CONTENT AND SCOPE OF THE RIGHT

2.1 Non-Contentious Issues

2.1.1 This right protects the freedom of persons to use the language of their choice and to participate in a cultural life they freely choose.

2.2 Outstanding³ Issues

2.2.1 The right to instruction in the language of choice, and to establish educational institutions based on a common culture, language or religion [s.32 (b) and (c) of the interim Constitution] be included within the scope of this right - DP.

2.2.2 Matters to be dealt with elsewhere in the Constitution: the official languages at national and regional levels, the creation of conditions for their equal use and enjoyment; the right to communicate in the courts and with government in one's own language; mechanisms to promote the development of all official languages and other languages used by communities in South Africa - ANC; FF.

³ It should be noted that items marked "Outstanding" do not signify disagreement amongst political parties or contention. Parties felt that these matters could best be dealt with at the level of the Constitutional Committee, where negotiation could take place.

3. APPLICATION OF THE RIGHT (Nature of the duty on the state)

3.1 Non-contentious Issues

3.1.1 This right imposes the following duties on the State:

3.1.1.1 to respect this right by refraining from interference in the legitimate enjoyment of cultural life by individuals;

3.1.1.2 to protect individuals against the violation of these rights by other persons.

3.1.1.3 to create conditions which promote the equal use, enjoyment and development of all languages and cultures in South Africa.

4. APPLICATION OF THE RIGHT (To common and customary law)
