Theuns,

Bob E. werk nog steeds aan die computers, so ek gaan nou my hand gebruik om van dié goed ontslae te raak.

Check asseblief alle detail - van opskrifte tot teks. Maak veranderinge wat soos jy goed dink. Slaan ek dié van jou terugkry, sal ek dit begin ontwerp sodat jy dit het voor die volgende aanbieding.

PROBLEM:

1. EK is onseker oor waar "interim arrangements" presies inpas.
2. Ditto oor die Bill of Rights. Waar bestaan inligting daaroor, of is dit die "Fundamental Rights" in hoofstuk 3 van die voorgestelde grondwet?
3. Die voorgestelde grondwet is inkonsistent met die gebruik van die titel "president". Is dit "State President" (executive) en "President" (Senate)?
4. Colin se streeks-ding het ek nog nie weer van gehoor nie.
5. Kan jy "flashpoints" op dié teks aandui?

- New constitution approved by two-thirds of CA.
- Constitutional Court must certify that new constitution is in line with constitutional principles.

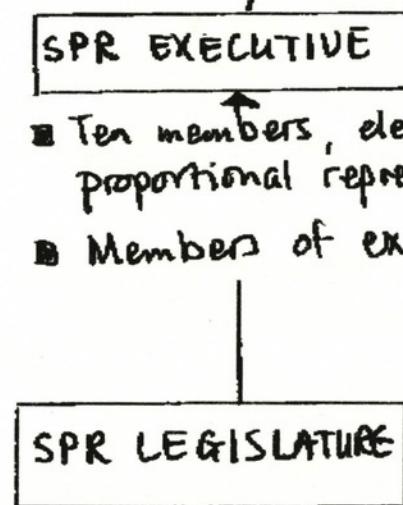

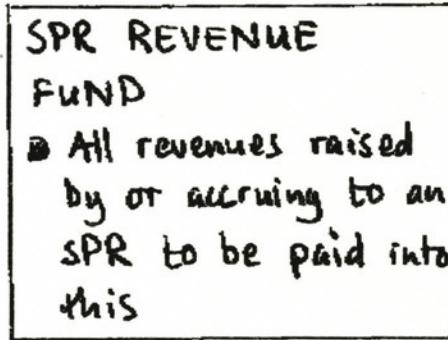

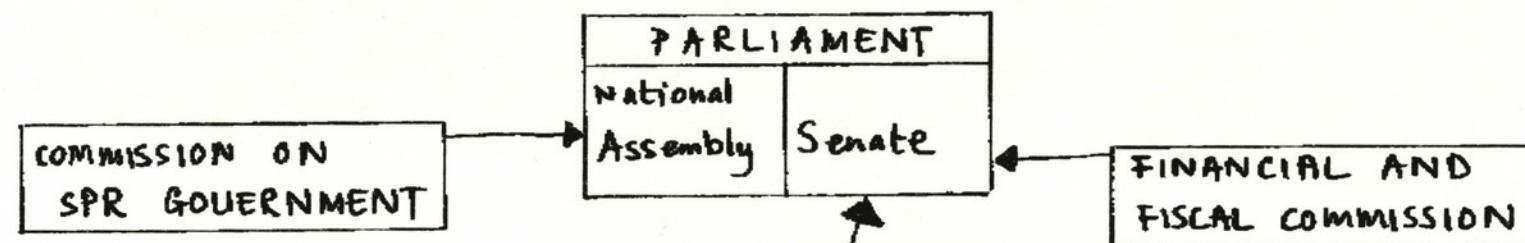

4)

DEADLOCK - BREAKING MECHANISMS

What happens if the new constitution is not supported by two-thirds of the CA?

- If a majority supports it, the draft constitution will be referred to a panel of experts, which will give its advice within 30 days.
- If the panel does not advise within 30 days, or should a draft prepared in accordance with its advice not be approved by two-thirds of the CA, a constitution may be accepted by a majority in the CA.
- If this happens, a national referendum will be held after the Constitutional Court has certified that the draft is in line with the constitutional principles adopted by the Negotiating Council.
- The referendum question will be acceptance or rejection of the draft constitution.
- If it is accepted by 60% of the electorate, the draft will become the Constitution of South Africa.
- If it is not accepted, Parliament dissolves and a general election is held.
- The new CA will then pass the final constitution within one year by an ordinary majority.

POST-ELECTION REGIONAL STRUCTURES AND PROCESSES.

- Continues until Parliament dissolves after deadlock on adoption of new constitution..
- TEC appoints provisional secretary for each SPR.
- Chairperson presides over meetings.
- Members elected on system of proportional representation.

 - Fiscal arrangements between institutions of national and SPR governments.
 - Powers and functions of local governments.

FINANCIAL AND FISCAL COMMISSION

- ② Will make recommendations to Parliament regarding equitable fiscal and financial allocations to the SPRs from revenue accrued nationally.
- In doing so, it will take into account:
 - The national interest.
 - That SPRs are entitled to an equitable share of national revenue to enable it and the local governments to provide basic services, and to execute their functions and powers.
 - Economic disparities between SPRs.
 - Population and developmental needs.
 - Administrative responsibilities of SPRs.
 - Other legitimate interests of SPRs.

INTERIM ARRANGEMENTS

- Administrative institutions and structures of present provinces, self-governing territories and the TBVC states continue.
- Personnel in these remain in their posts, without changes to their remuneration.
- SPR governments take control of the exclusive functional areas given them in terms of the interim constitution.
- National and SPR governments must:
 - Cooperate with each other.
 - Rationalise the administrative institutions and structures of the present provinces, self-governing territories and TBVC states.
- If the national government and SPR governments disagree on this rationalisation, they must have regard to the advice and recommendations of the Commission on SPR Government.
