The new constitution
will be written by
the most important person in the country.
You.

No matter what your sex, race, age or political beliefs, now is the time for you to have a say in the way your country is governed. So air your views and give your ideas and proposals to a Member of the Constitutional Assembly, your organisation or write directly to The Executive Director, Constitutional Assembly, PO Box 15, Cape Town 8000. It's an ongoing process, one that will be debated then written by the people you elected, the Constitutional Assembly. But remember, if you don't have an opinion, someone else will.

You've made your mark.

Now have your say.
