Dear Colleague,

Southern African Studies in the University of London

I enclose a copy of a paper issued by the South African Committee of the Council for International Co-operation in Higher Education, which is a Committee of the British Council, for your information and comment. It is a document in the public domain so that I think we are at liberty to circulate and discuss it. I would be happy to pass on any views of teachers of London University to the Secretary; if you wish me to do so, perhaps you could let me have your comments in writing by the 14th September.

Plans for the symposium on 22nd-23rd November are proceeding, and unless there is any other urgent business, I suggest we hold the next networking meeting at 4.30 p.m. on Friday 22 November, before Albie Sachs' talk to the Friends of the ICS. In the meantime I would be grateful if those who have not returned my questionnaire could do so by the 14th September at the latest.

Hope you are having a restful and refreshing vacation,
Yours sincerely,

S. Marks
