

The CA makes changes to the draft of the constitution

This new constitution is sent to the Constitutional Court to be checked (the certification of the constitution)

The CA then passes the new constitution (the adoption of the constitution)

13.

The President signs the new constitution and it is published in the Government Gazette. The Government Gazette will give the date when the new constitution will become the highest law of our country.

