WORKING GROUP 1: SCHEDULE OF MEETINGS

1. Ximoko supports the principle generally of affording greater opportunity for reflection and consultation. However, the position of the Management Committee is that it cannot dictate to Working Groups in this regard but that it can and will indicate that whilst they should use their own discretion they should no longer consider themselves under an obligation to meet weekly if they consider this to be unproductive. They would, however, still have to meet at least once every two weeks.
2. We generally support this view but would suggest that at least in respect of those sub-working groups whose activities are most directly concerned with the spiral of violence, they should have the discretion to meet sufficiently regularly to effectively address the problem.

Regards.
